THE PENNANT.

WAS REALLY WON FOR CAIRO BY PADUCAH.

The Paducah boys have been highly congratulated by the Cairo team and managers for the fight they put up in Clarksville which really won the pennant for Cairo.

Had Clarksville won the three straight games from Paducah and had Cairo played as she did at Henderson she would have been in second place, so the work of the Paducah boys really won the pennant for Cairo.

Edmunds won yesterday's game for Paducah by a two bagger and single, hit at just the right time as Edmunds invariably hits. He is about as sure a hitter as there is in the league.

Mrs. Mattie Rouse has returned from visiting in Shepherdsville, Ky.

SUCCEEDS BOREING

Judge John S. Denton is Now Mentioned.

He is Understood to be the Choice of Collector Yerkes.

NO OPPOSITION LIKELY.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 27.—Judge John S. Denton, of Somerset, collector of internal revenue of the eighth district, will be successor of Congressman Boreing. This decision has been practically reached since the death of Congressman Boreing yesterday, who believed there will be no other candidate for the nomination, as Denton is recognized as the choice of Yerkes, who is at present in control of the party organization in Kentucky.

A number of Republicans have been mentioned as possible successors, but the edict went out this morning that Denton must be given the nomination.

Judge Denton was appointed collector to succeed Commissioner Yerkes, who was appointed commissioner of internal revenue by President McKinley. He and Yerkes have always been close friends. Judge Denton for years has been anxious to represent the eleventh district in congress, but hesitated to make a fight against Boreing.

WENT TO 49.

NO FROST IN THIS SECTION LAST NIGHT—NONE EXPECTED.

The lowest temperature reached last night in this section was 49 degrees, which is the coolest in several months. There was no fear of frost, however, from 32 to 36 degrees being required to produce frost. The highest yesterday was 70, and it will be about that today. Tonight is expected to be warmer than last night, although the predictions sent out from Louisville are for colder weather in Kentucky.

There will probably be no frost in this section for some little time yet. The reports indicate that the cool wave has about spent itself and warm weather may be expected soon.

WAS ALLOWED BAIL

Henry Temple Released on $5,000 Bond This Morning.

Could Not Possibly be Guilty of Murder, Thinks the Court.

SELF DEFENSE CLEAR.

The motion for bail in the Henry Temple murder case was this morning sustained by Special Judge James Campbell in circuit court, and Temple was immediately released on a $5,000 bond. Dr. S. Z. Holland, of Grahamville, Adam Temple, of Maxon Mills and Mr. Richard Rudy, city, becoming surety.

The court had continued the motion for bail until yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock when the attorneys began to argue and a night session was held, the motion being left open until today. Temple is charged with the murder of Robert Smallman and had been out on a $2,000 bond prior to his indictment and when the indictment was found and returned into court he was arrested and committed to jail without bond.

The evidence adduced in support of the motion for bail shows plainly that Mr. Temple probably acted in self-defense. Smallman, his engineer, had been taken home once from the mill, and being drunk returned to the mill. Evidence was heard showing that his family sent to Mr. Temple to bring him back home, and Mr. Temple started back with him.

Smallman seemed to resent it, and struck Mr. Temple several times, and finally cut him on the neck. It was not until then that Mr. Temple did any cutting. Smallman's statement before he died in the railroad hospital here exonerated Mr. Temple.

The court in passing on the case stated that from the evidence murder could not possibly be made out of the case, and that killing in sudden affray was all that could be made out of it, at the most. He accordingly allowed bail, and fixed it at $5,000.

Mrs. W. H. Bradley Brings Action Against Street Car Co.

Claims Carelessness of Motorman Caused Painful Injuries.

Mrs. Lucy L. Bradley, of West Broadway, who was injured June 20 near her home while attempting to get off a street car, today filed suit for damages through her attorneys Lightfoot and Yonts, against the Paducah Railway and Light Co.

Mrs. Bradley, it will be remembered, was riding home and just before reaching her residence pulled the bell cord to stop the car. She claims the car did not stop exactly in front of her house but went past it several feet and while she was in the act of alighting, the motorman started the car without taking the precaution of seeing that she had safely reached the ground and caused her to fall and be dragged several feet, finally throwing her to the ground with sufficient force to break her left arm near the wrist and to cause her to be confined to her bed for some time.

She attributes the accident to the carelessness of the motorman and asks for judgment for $15,000 against the company.

DEEDS.

S. E. Forest deeds to George Baker, for $100, property in the Chamblin addition to the city.

Mrs. Walter T. Clark deeds to I. D. Davies, for $300, property in Rowlandtown.

STATE GUARD EQUIPMENT

NEW SUPERINTENDENT NAMED.

Washington, Sept. 17—Paul McGinty, of the supervising architect's office, was today appointed superintendent of construction for the new government building at Paducah, Ky.

LET OFF LIGHT.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 17—S. D. Dempsey, who was arrested Saturday at West Point and confessed to attempting to destroy the plant of the West Point Beacon, writing threatening letters to the proprietor, and implicating H. A. Clark, a well known citizen, of that place, as an accessory, was arraigned before the county judge of Hardin county yesterday, and on a plea of guilty to the charge of destroying private property was fined $10, the lowest fine for that offense. Dr. Ben Morrison, proprietor of the Beacon, who swore out the warrant for Dempsey and was the main prosecuting witness, asked the court's mercy for the prisoner. Relatives of Dempsey's wife, who reside at Sturgis, went to West Point when they were notified of his predicament, and through their efforts and through sympathy for Dempsey's family, Dr. Morrison agreed to be lenient with him. The fine and costs were paid by Dempsey's friends, and he was liberated.

KENTUCKY'S NEW EQUIPMENT.

Washington, Sept. 17—Captain C. C. Calhoun, representing Governor

Beckham and the adjutant general's department of the Kentucky state guard, has secured from the ordnance department a total allowance of 8,500 Krag-Jorgenson rifles for the state. The guard is now in possession of 905 rifles and 244 more will be shipped tomorrow for the use of the boys in the coming maneuvers. The remaining 2,351 rifles will be held here until Governor orders them sent to the state.

The department also honored a telegraphic requisition from Governor Beckham for 2,000 khaki shirts, 1,000 bed sacks, overcoats, blankets and other material for the use of the guard in the West Point encampment.

EVANGELIST'S WIFE DIES.

Washington, Sept. 17—Miss Marie Barnes, daughter of the Rev. George Barnes, the notable Kentucky evangelist, received news of the death of her mother at Sanibel, Fla. Miss Barnes lives in Washington. Her father is understood to be in Central Kentucky just now conducting his religious work.

MINERS STRIKE OFF.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 17—A report from Morganfield says that the coal miners' strike to have taken effect in a few days, has been called off as the operators have come to the terms of the employees and signed the union scale, which will go into effect October 1.

COMES 21ST

NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF CUSTOM HOUSE DUE THEN.

The newly appointed superintendent of the government building addition here, appointed at Washington a day or two ago, as told in the dispatches, will arrive September 21. Mr. Holmes, the first inspector, was granted a leave of absence on account of illness and the next man appointed, Mr. Canmann, failed to arrive. The new man will remain throughout the work, which will be several months.

It is stated on reliable authority that the boodle jury at Jefferson City, Mo., has unearthed evidence sufficient to warrant the indictment of a Democratic senator for soliciting a bribe at the last session of the Missouri assembly.

DEATH IN CALLOWAY COUNTY

HAD EAR TORN OFF.

Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 17—A gentleman by the name of Cox, from near Water Valley, with his wife and child, was passing through Lynnnville in a buggy. They stopped in front of a store or the postoffice and the gentleman got out, leaving his wife to hold the reins. He had hardly stepped out when a flurry of wind blew some dust or leaves in front of the horse, frightening him and causing him to run away. Mrs. Cox succeeded in pulling the horse into a fence corner after he had broken one of the shafts and the cross bar. The buggy was turned over and Mrs. Cox and the child fell out. The horse was still kicking and the lady was struck on the side of the head by one of his feet and one of her ears kicked nearly off. It had to be amputated by a physician who attended her. The child escaped with a few slight injuries.

DEVoured BY WORMS.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at DeBouis, Kolb and Co.

RAILROAD CASE.

ATTORNEY REID TO APPEAR AT FRANKFORT FOR THE DEFENDANT.

Attorney William Reid will go to Frankfort Monday to appear for the defendant in the case brought by the state against the N. C. & St. L. road in which the state attempts to make the road pay an organization tax which will amount to $10,000 with a 20 per cent penalty.

The state attorneys claim the road is organized in this state because it filed a copy of its articles of incorporation with the state officials and is therefore subject to a tax. The tax is one tenth of one per cent with the 20 per cent penalty which amounts to the above. Attorney Reid thinks he will have no trouble in showing that the company is not organized in this state.

MAY GO FREE

ATTORNEYS TO MAKE AN EFFORT TO LIBERATE AUBREY.

It is understood that the attorneys for Sid Aubrey, who is waiting in jail for a trial for the alleged theft of whiskey from the wharf boat, will shortly file affidavits of non resident witnesses and have the case disposed of, which means it will have to be thrown out of court.

The principal witnesses do not live here and can not be found by the commonwealth while on the contrary Aubrey is ready for trial and demands a hearing. If the affidavits are filed to the effect that the witnesses are not to be gotten, the court will have to throw the case out or file it away indefinitely. Aubrey has been in jail eleven months waiting for trial.

THE SERPENT AND THE MAN.

Find the Man's Child.

The Child of a Cottager was at play at the back of his father's house, and by chance trod upon a Snake, which turned round and bit him. The Child died of the bite; and the Father, pursuing the Snake, aimed a blow at him and cut off a piece of his tail. The Snake gained his hole, and the next day the Man came and laid at the mouth of the hole some honey, meal and salt, and made offers of peace, thinking to entice the Snake forth and kill him. "It won't do," hissed out the Snake. "As long as I miss my tail, and you your Child, there can be no good-will between us."

MORAL—The man who has injured you will never forgive you. It is vain for two people who have injured each other ever to expect to live well together for the future.

IS DYING

WELL KNOWN LOUISVILLE MAN SINKING.

Yesterday's Louisville Times says: "Mr. Paul F. Semonin, Sr., is in a dying condition at his home, 2420 Cypress street. His condition is due to paralysis and old age. He suffered a stroke about two years ago and a year later suffered another. Since then his condition has been growing gradually worse. He is 74 years of age. Dr. J. W. Klein told the family today that Mr. Semonin would live only a few hours. The dying man is the father of five living children, William J. Semonin, county clerk; Mrs. R. E. Gilbert, Mrs. T. P. Young, Miss Mamie Semonin, principal of the Columbia school and Miss Jean Semonin. Mr. Semonin was prominently connected for many years with Louisville tobacco interests, but business reverses caused his retirement."

TO GRAND JURY.

BOYD, WHO WAS CAUGHT HERE, GIVES BOND.

A Cadiz, Ky., dispatch says of Turner Boyd, the young man arrested by Patrol Driver John Austin a few days ago:

"Marvin Baker and Turner Boyd, about 18 years of age, went to Blue Spring church and broke up the meeting, ending by cursing the preacher and members of the congregation. They were arrested, but their friends came to their rescue, and made the officers turn them loose. They left that night, but the marshal of Cadiz received information from the authorities at Paducah, stating that they had Boyd there in custody. He was brought here and permitted to give bail to await the action of the grand jury."

TRUE BILL FOUND

INDICTMENTS AGAINST LOUISVILLE NEWSPAPER MEN.

The grand jury at Smithland has found true bills against Editor Young Allison of the Louisville Herald, and George Riley, the Frankfort correspondent, for alleged criminal libel. The accused are expected to come down from Louisville today and present themselves for the purpose of executing bond, and it is probable there will be no trials of the cases at this term.

The charge is based on a publication that Supt. H. V. McChesney, of Frankfort, while he was traveling about the state pretending to be looking after his school work, was making speeches and campaigning. The warrants against the newspaper men were taken out in Livingston county, about 300 miles from Supt. McChesney's present home, in order, it is alleged, to cause the accused as much annoyance as possible, and because Supt. McChesney has a pull in Livingston county, it being his former home.

Editor Allison was in the city today en route to Smithland and Correspondent Riley will be down this afternoon en route to the same place.

PANTRYMAN ROBBED

HE WAS VISITING RELATIVES IN CINCINNATI.

The Cincinnati papers of yesterday gave an account of how Wm. Griffiths was assaulted and robbed by a new found acquaintance there night before last. When found he was badly hurt, and his money, a watch and a $190 note were stolen. He said he was employed on the Dick Fowler, and inquiry today revealed the fact that he is pantryman, and has been employed on the boat for the past three years. His relatives live in Cincinnati and he was granted a leave of absence about two weeks ago to visit relatives there. He is about 60 years old, and is not badly hurt.

ESTERLINE ARRESTED

MOBILE & OHIO CONDUCTOR WANTED FOR BIGAMY CAUGHT IN COLORADO.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 17.—W. H. Esterline, the Mobile & Ohio conductor, who is wanted here for bigamy, has been arrested in Colorado. Mrs. Jennie Esterline, who figures as wife No. 1 in the case, employed detectives upon her return to her home in St. Louis and they located the missing man and arrested him on a train in Colorado. He will be brought here for trial. Mrs. Esterline the second is still here and will return to her former home in Paine, O., after the trial.

THE RAILROADS

Supt. Renshaw to Make His Inspection Here Today.

I. C. Employee Goes After a Big Amount of Money Won.

Mr. J. J. Kightlinger, the I. C. operator who yesterday was notified that he had drawn $20,000 in a Honduras lottery, will go to that place about the 20th of this month to look after his newly gotten wealth. He held several one dollar tickets to the lottery, which is a government lottery, and was surprised to receive notification that he had been successful. The money has been deposited in a bank for the claimant and Mr. Kightlinger is arranging to go after it at once.

Mr. William Renshaw, superintendent of machinery of the I. C., and assistants, will arrive in the city this afternoon to make an inspection of the local shops.

Mr. Renshaw was due in the city yesterday but on account of delays by high winds yesterday was unable to come across the river and turned back to make inspections in Illinois. He will come over via Brookport this afternoon in his private car and will proceed south from Paducah.

Last night train No. 375 over the I. C. road, was annulled on account of strong winds. The train is scheduled to leave the depot at 6:15 in the evening but could not get across the river on account of high winds and was annulled.

Mr. Albert Walker, who went temporarily insane from epilepsy in the I. C. machine shops, where he worked, here several days ago, has been sent home.

Mr. George Wiser, general foreman for the Gulf and Ship Island road, who is visiting in the city, is ill at his home on North 12th street.

Mr. W. J. Harahan, assistant general manager of the I. C., is due back from Louisville today. He will probably go south from here.

DEATH OF A CHILD—Marie F. Herrington, aged 24 days, died at 1404 South Fourth street yesterday afternoon. The burial took place this afternoon at Oak Grove.

DISASTER RECALLED

Relic of the Lucy Walker Found Near New Albany.

Carpenters Chest Lost in Explosion Over Half a Century Ago Was Intact.

TREASURER IS STILL LOST

A heavy cedar chest, bound with iron and bearing on one end the inscription, "Lucy Walker," was found by some boys while picking up coal on a bar below New Albany. The chest was of the sort used by steamboat carpenters, and the discovery of the inscription on it revealed the fact that it once figured in a river horror nearly 60 years ago.

The Lucy Walker was a fine steamer of the old days. On the night of October 25, 1844, she pulled out from New Albany with a big crowd of passengers bound for New Orleans. The captain was warned that the boiler was defective, but he left port, saying that he would start the trip if he blew the boat up.

His words were prophetic. The boat had scarcely gotten under way when the boilers let go with a terrific noise. The boat was landed in flames, but the disaster cost 25 persons their lives and injured a score of others.

Captain Joe Fowler well remembers the terrible disaster, and states that no Paducahans figured in it. Of the dead there were eight unidentified, and their bodies now lie in Fairview cemetery near New Albany in unmarked graves.

Among the survivors was a girl babe not old enough to tell her name or parentage. She was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loughmiller of New Albany, who reared her as their own. She is still living in New Albany having since married and reared a family.

In the office of the boat was a safe containing $20,000 in gold. No trace of this treasure has ever been found in the three score intervening years, and for the last four decades or more no search has been made for it. Prior to that time every summer during the low water season, bands of New Albany men made a practice of dragging the river for many miles below the scene of the explosion, but no trace of the safe was ever found. With the discovery of the chest, interest in the Lucy Walker has again revived about New Albany and it is expected that active search will be made for the treasure.

2,650 PUPILS

Are Enrolled in the Public Schools.

It Is a Large Increase Over Last Year.

The enrollment of the local public schools both white and colored, is 2,650 and still pupils are applying for entrance cards.

The total white enrollment to date is a fraction over 1900 and the colored enrollment is 750. This exceeds the enrollment of last year quite a great deal and better results are expected generally this year than last.

The principals will meet Friday to consider a course in literature to be taken up by the teachers' literary society which is formed every year. The principals met last Tuesday but postponed action until Friday.

The heating plants at the different schools were brought into play today except at the Longfellow school where the plant is still undergoing repairs. The big electric fan which is to throw the air into the rooms has not arrived and this will delay the completion of the improvements some time.

THE HANDBOOK

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN EDITION IS OUT.

The Republican campaign handbook, which has been in the hands of the printer for the past several days, will be ready for distribution today.

The book, which covers about seventy pages, is a complete and comprehensive statement of the leading issues of the campaign. It gives a brief synopsis of Governor Beckham's record and of his loose management of the public institutions of the state. The school book question, Beckham's eligibility, reports from the auditor's office and numerous other issues are treated in the handbook.

It is not the intention of the Republican managers to make a general distribution of the book, but to use it chiefly as a guide to the Republican orators. The book is not of the argumentative sort, but is a brief synopsis of facts and figures.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and colder tonight, probably a light frost tonight. Friday fair.

It remains to be seen whether the Salvation army will have as conciliatory effect on the desperadoes of Breathitt as the state guard army did. They have no weapons and may need none, but if it should happen they do, they will be like the man in Texas—need 'em d— bad.

As a result of the universal prosperity of the country, it is claimed the west and south are rapidly becoming independent of the eastern money markets. The fact that there seems to be

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To Be Voted On at the November Election.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment to Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

"The General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, licenses or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon;

"Provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of an ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light or electric power company."

plenty of money with which to move the crops indicates that prosperity is here to stay. It will continue to stay as long as the people remain loyal to the Republican party.

Mayor Yeiser claimed his term of office was four years. The court of appeals, in deciding the injunction suits, said his term was two years. This must be his term, and the constitution says "the mayor or other executive after the expiration of the term for which he is elected under this constitution, shall be ineligible for the succeeding term." Mayor Yeiser, having about served the term for which, according to the court, he was elected, is now trying to be elected to the succeeding term, and is, apparently, at least, clearly ineligible.

It will be good news to the Republicans of Kentucky to learn that Secretary Shaw will come down from Washington to aid the Republicans of this state in their campaign for a free ballot, fair count, free press and speech, and emancipation from the gang of grafters who dominate the Democratic party and continually bleed the state. Secretary Shaw's appointments do not include Paducah, but an effort should be made by local Republicans to get this eloquent and popular speaker to come here. This is considered the strongest Democratic district in the state, and if good speakers are needed for the Republican cause anywhere in Kentucky, certainly it can be nowhere more than in this hot bed of Goebelism and rabid Democracy.

After several weeks of evasion and concealment the Democratic prison commissioners have allowed the parole record to become public. It shows that in three years 194 paroles have been granted to prisoners, 134 of them for murder and manslaughter. These added to the 204 pardons the governor admits having issued himself, makes the number of criminals turned out in three years by the Democratic administration, 398. A parole is equivalent in all material points to a pardon, and turns loose on society a class of people whose place, according to our laws, is in prison. Nothing has a more sinister influence on the criminal element than this promiscuous pardoning of felons. An evidence of its baleful effect is now to be found in Breathitt county.

Mr. Beckham is, we believe, a lawyer, says the Louisville Post, at least, he was educated as a lawyer, and he ought to know enough of legal proceedings not to state that the courts have decided that Goebel was never elected governor, honestly, dishonestly, or otherwise. The restoration of that statement does not change its character, nor will he ever get the people of Kentucky to accept it. No court has rendered any such decision. From the lowest to the highest they decided that the constitution gave to the legislature exclusive jurisdiction of such a contest, and that the courts could not invade the territory. Nor could the courts make such a falsehood true. Goebel and Beckham were beaten by a decisive majority, even after almost unlimited opportunities for fraud, provided in advance by the Goebel law, were exhausted, and the declaration of the legislature to the contrary was a revolutionary act which no free people can afford to pardon. For that act the Democratic party of Kentucky is today brought to judgment.

The Democrats cannot hope to profit by the contemptible methods they are employing in this campaign to defeat the Republicans. One of the smallest things ever done by a Democratic politician in Kentucky was that of having two Louisville newspaper men indicted at Smithland, Ky., for alleged criminal libel. No matter if Superintendent McChesney was misrepresented in the Louisville paper, he would have made a better impression on the people of the state had he done his prosecuting in the courts nearest him, instead of taking his grievance to a county 300 miles away, in which he lived and has every advantage, and in which nearly every person is more than likely his personal friend, and will if on the jury strain a point, if necessary, to make the present charges a political matter and give the men who committed the alleged offense the worst of it with all possible haste and severity. If the defendants in the indictments returned yesterday are convicted, the people of the state will understand perfectly why it is, and that the prosecutor was afraid to have the case tried on its merits in a county where prosecutor and prosecuted would be on an equal footing.

One of the effects of the lack of enterprise of Democratic administration of the past five years in Paducah is now evident in connection with the paving of the streets in the business portion of the city. The ordinance recently passed requires all pipes laid or relaid before the street is paved, and prohibits the street being torn up for a certain number of years after the work is finished. The city has never, in the five years the sanitary sewerage system has been in operation, passed any ordinance requiring people to connect their homes and business houses with the sewerage, and as a result, the city now cannot require property owners along the streets to be paved, to connect with the sewerage if they have not already done so, and if such an ordinance is passed in the future it will conflict directly with the one recently passed prohibiting the streets torn up for a period of five years, and will in addition result in the paved streets being badly torn up and damaged should such an ordinance ever be passed and enforced. This is the only city in the world that has had sanitary sewerage for five years and over, and not compelled the people in the sewer districts to connect with it.

A GREAT RECORD.

HARD TO DUPLICATE IT IN PADUCAH.

Scores of representative citizens of Paducah are testifying on the following subject. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Mrs. Martha Hamilton, of 610 Tennessee street, says: "I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys. It brought on a severe attack of inflammation of the kidneys and ever afterwards I was subject to pain across the back, although I used every precaution to prevent it. I was prostrated and had to remain in bed for some time. One day I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for just such conditions as mine. It struck me that they might do me some good so I procured a box at DuBois & Co's drug store. They helped me from the start. The dull aching across the small of my back finally disappeared, the pain in my muscles and legs and dizziness which accompanied it left, and since I have been only too pleased to tell friends and acquaintances about the results I obtained from using Doan's Kidney Pills."

LITTLE BEING DONE

In the Matter of Laying New Water and Other Pipes

Engineer L. A. Washington Consults the City Solicitor About It.

NOTICE TO BE SERVED TODAY

City officials are in a quandary in regard to compelling property owners along the thoroughfares to be paved by Contractor Terrell, to put in their water, gas, steam heating and other pipes before the streets are improved, after which time they cannot tear up the streets for five years. Only comparatively a few have exhibited any signs of laying new pipes. If they do it now they will have to have the streets dug down from the hard gravel surface to the proper level. If they wait until the contractor has the street cut down, which he will have to do before they can be paved, it will be much easier and less expensive than to have it done now. Their inactivity accordingly promises to occasion more or less delay.

It seems many of them are disposed to wait and save money, but City Engineer Washington is not inclined to allow them to do so.

He says they must do the work now. That after the excavations are made by the contractor in accordance with the grades furnished, the property owners will have no right to begin digging down to put in their pipes, and in addition to delaying the work, probably leave ditches that will sink down and leave very annoying depressions. Most of the pipes will have to be laid several feet below the lowest grade of the contractor's excavations.

Engineer Washington, however, has not devised any successful way of carrying out his plans. Today he consulted City Solicitor Werten in regard to the matter, and was told that the property owners could be made to put in the pipes now, and today notice will be served on them all to do it forthwith.

What effect this will have remains to be seen. In regard to connecting those buildings along the various streets that have not been connected with the sanitary sewerage the engineer does not know what can be done. There is no ordinance compelling them to connect with the sewerage and if they do not desire to, the street will have to be paved over without its being done, and possibly reopened at some future time should an ordinance be passed compelling property owners to connect with the sewerage.

2700 WORKMEN.

One of the principal reasons for advocating the use of any good article is that quality will be long remembered after price is forgotten. Now take for instance a coffee pot or an oat meal cooker. These two articles are used every day of the year and in nearly every family in the city. If you can get these articles to last five years instead of one year can't you readily see where you can well afford to pay a little more for them. This is what prompted us to secure the agency for the Stransky Ware made in a factory which employs 2,700 workmen. This ware has never been brought to our city on account of no firm even having the nerve to buy a large enough quantity to secure the right prices. Stransky's man made a special trip to induce us to take hold of it, and as a result of his visit a large shipment was imported in the original packages and is now on exhibition at the new stores of Scott Hardware company, just across the street from the Palmer house on Broadway.

It will be a pleasure to show these goods and unless YOU buy them YOU will be the loser. Every article is guaranteed and if not satisfactory bring it back and no questions will be raised. STRANSKY WARE IS THE WARE THAT WEARS. Scott Hardware company are the sole agents. See the beautiful window display

RUNAWAY HORSE.—A horse belonging to the Independent Telephone company ran through the Tully livery company's stable this morning about 11:30 o'clock and tore a tire off the buggy. The horse had been left standing in front of the stable and taking a notion that he wanted to go inside out of the cold he started in and failed to stop, but went on through.

WAITED AND FINALLY GOT IN.

"Prior to the time Grape Nuts food came upon the market I had suffered terribly from chronic catarrh of the stomach and had not taken one ounce of solid food but forced to live on liquids for upwards of 18 months," says a Philadelphia man: "Naturally I was greatly reduced physically and life was a burden to me."

"When Grape Nuts was first put upon the market it seemed from its description that it was just what I required and had been waiting for so I began its use and began to improve immediately. I kept up the use of Grape Nuts, growing stronger and better until my stomach finally recovered entirely and today I can digest any kind of food without trouble. All the catarrh is gone. I also feel the effects of the food very strongly in renewed nerve and brain force." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A large percentage of all diseases is caused by improper food and when this wrong condition of affairs is corrected and proper food, Grape Nuts, is used in place of improper food a complete restoration to health, brain, nerve and physical powers follows. This is a simple truth founded upon solid scientific facts and trial proves it.

A CHILD KIDNAPPED

Postman Thacker and Wife Lose Little Girl.

The Mother, Who Gave Them the Child Two Years Ago Returns and Takes it Away.

CAUSED GREAT EXCITEMENT

A sensational kidnapping occurred on Willie street on the South Side this morning between 8 and 8:30 o'clock when little Dolly Bethel, age 9 years of age, was carried away from Postman Charles Thacker and wife by the child's mother, Mrs. Albert Hopkins, of Kansas City, Mo., who two years ago gave the child to Mrs. Thacker to raise.

The child's father, J. T. Bethel was a brother of Mrs. Thacker and lived here until his health became such that he was forced to move west six years ago, and before he died he requested that the child be sent to his sister to be reared which was done just two years ago when he died. The mother three months ago married again, her husband being Albert Hopkins, of Pueblo, Col. Several weeks ago it seems, she decided she wanted the child herself and came here to take it away. Mrs. Thacker refused to let her have the child and it is said she remained in the city, living with a family across the street.

This morning as the child was en route to school the opportunity for which the mother had been waiting came and she caught and carried her away. The child's frantic screams attracted the attention of Mrs. Thacker and others who ran out and attempted to prevent the kidnapping but were unsuccessful, Mrs. Hopkins having succeeded in getting the child away and into the house before Mrs. Thacker could interfere. Later she left that portion of the city and could not be located. The affair created great excitement in that locality for a time.

Postman Thacker was carrying his route, teaching a substitute when notified by telephone of the alleged kidnapping, and secured permission over the phone from headquarters to allow the substitute to finish the route, and left at once for home, but he could not find the child. His two weeks vacation began this afternoon.

After the child was taken away by its mother, the police were notified, but could do nothing without a warrant.

Attorneys were consulted, but it seems the child has never been legally given into the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Thacker, and they have taken no steps, as yet, to regain possession of her.

They have not abandoned hope, however, and will try to recover the child, to whom they have become very devoted. It is understood the mother took the child to a boarding house down town, but one report is she caught the noon train for St. Louis and lost no time in leaving the city.

TWO TOWNS—SOME DIFFERENCES.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 12, 1903.

Editor of The Sun: I note by The Sun where the board of aldermen has raised the amount of the bond proposition to be submitted to the people at the coming election for the purpose of further street improvements to $150,000. That is right, and very gratifying to these of us who wish to see Paducah take the place it deserves in the ranks of cities. To some of our people who have lived there all their lives, and who never "wander from their own fireside," conditions, as they exist, may be all right. But to those who get about, and see what other towns in the same class, with no more wealth and much less business, are doing in the way of civic improvement it is heartrending. In Paducah we all believe, and with much reason, that we have the best town of its size in the country, yet from a superficial glance a traveler wouldn't be so impressed. Paducah's first impressions are bad. Take Broadway for instance. It is a good or bad (?) brick street, but on account of neglect the average man can't tell what it is. And the block on Broadway from Fifth to Sixth street, the most prominent in the city. Its as full of holes as some automobile tires. However, it seems we need not expect anything else until we get a change in administrations. Happily, it looks as if we shall do that very thing this fall.

I wish our "men of affairs" could see this town, Battle Creek, probably they would get an inspiration, but it's doubtful. Battle Creek is just the same size as Paducah, but psshaw! our boasted pretty town compares favorably to it, in beauty, as some of these northern girls do to our maidens of the south.

Battle Creek has six miles of good, brick streets, and they are cleaned every night. They don't wait for rains here to do the cleansing stunt as Paducah officials do. The sidewalks in Battle Creek are all concrete, about four feet wide, with pretty plots of grass on each side. Every ten or fifteen feet, in the residence districts is a fine shade tree, and the yards are without fences. With all due respect to "Uncle Jo Potter," if he could only see the added beauty the handsome lawns with their beautiful flowers, and genuine, Kentucky blue grass, give a town he, too, would commend, or enjoy, the town crows to take to "the tall and uncut."

There are a host of Paducah people, however, who are anxious to bring about a change in existing conditions in Paducah and it is to be hoped they will start the ball rolling this fall. Here's one who is with them.

Most sincerely,
AN ABSENTEE.

KEPT DAUGHTER CHAINED FOR FOUR YEARS.

Croton Lake, N. Y., September 17.

With a heavy oaken club Margaret Ryan, whom her mother, Ann Ryan, declares to be a raving maniac, held at bay today the woman who for the last four years has kept her chained to the floor in the hovel the two women call home. Mrs. Ryan, in an effort to demonstrate that her daughter was harmless, removed for the first time in four years the chain which the unfortunate girl has worn about her waist.

Margaret ran to the wood shed, and arming herself with a stout stick, defied her mother to attempt to again chain her to the floor. Mother and daughter clinched and rolled over on the grass. The daughter finally succeeded in throwing her mother in a corn crib, and then announced that she would brain the first person who attempted to prevent her escaping. She ran madly across the valley and up the mountain side.

Mrs. Ryan admitted she had kept her daughter chained to the floor for four years, giving as her reason her inability to keep her in the house. When asked whether she would like to be free of her chains, Margaret said before she was released: "Why, of course I would. My mother, whom I love dearly, imagines that I am insane while the fact of the matter is she is crazy. She has kept me chained like a dog, and at times beats me cruelly."

Farmers organized a searching party in an effort to locate the wandering woman.

BACK TO BALLARD

WILL M'KELLAR TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

Will McKellar, who had been in jail here for several days for safe keeping, charged with the murder of Robert Berry at Bandana about a week ago, was taken to Wickliffe last night by the sheriff of Ballard to be given a preliminary hearing today. McKellar's crime was a cold-blooded one, from reports, and there is much feeling against him.

RAISED FROM THE DEAD.

C. W. Landis, "Porter" for the Oriental Hotel, Chanute, Kan., says: "I know what it was to suffer with neuralgia, deed I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment and I was 'raised from the dead.' I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposed' of my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am tellin' de truth, too."

Liquid Kidney Remedies Are Saturated With Alcohol

F. J. CAMPBELL CURED OF "BRICK DUST" DEPOSITS.

Aug. 26, 1903, Mr. Campbell of 1916 Chicago Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., wrote: "I have taken two bottles of Kidney-wort Tablets, which I am happy to tell you have cured me of kidney trouble, from which I had to be up from two to three times every night. Now I can rest without getting up once. I had severe pains in kidneys and back, and I now have no more pains, and I am sure it was through your Kidney-wort Tablets that I now enjoy good health. My urine that was very dark and showed a deposit resembling brick dust is now clear. I found the Tablets pleasant to take. I carried them with me to my work, and think the one reason why they cured me so quickly is because I never missed taking them each day as often as directed. I am earnestly recommending my friends to use them and throw away all other remedies."

The demand for Kidney-wort Tablets, since physicians have begun to order them, has become enormous. The evident advantage of the active, concentrated, non-alcoholic Tablets over all other kidney remedies has turned the attention of thousands of sufferers toward Dr. Pettingill's specific.

Has your urine, your back, your general health led you to wonder if your kidneys are sound? Write Dr. Pettingill, Burlington, Vermont. Give him your symptoms, he will advise you free.

Columbia River and Mt. Hood is the title of a chapter in the Northern Pacific's "WONDERLAND 1903."

Few of our people have any idea of what a noble stream the Oregon of Brant's Thanatopsis, is, or know of the beauties of Mt. Hood and of the pleasures of a sojourn on its flanks, covered with the firs and spruces of the North Pacific slope.

There is no such stream in the United States as the Columbia. The Hudson, Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri, are not in the same category with this grandest of rivers. With its swirling currents, rapids, cataracts, lava bluffs, fairy water falls, cascades, tremendous canyon walls, gigantic cliffs, salmon fisheries, palisades, pinnacles, and tidal bays, its great width and its sea like depth, it eclipses any water course in North American territory.

Mt. Hood, always white with snow, overlooks the river gorge and adds to its attractiveness.

Send CHAS. S. FEE, General Passenger Agt., St. Paul, Minn., six cents for "WONDERLAND 1903" and acquaint yourself with the history and physical and other characteristics of this grandly scenic country.

LAX-FOS

Helps you work and helps you rest. It aids digestion, cures constipation, strengthens the kidneys, and never nauseates. It is as palatable as a Florida orange, and its action is so mild and gentle that nature is coaxed into service and made to do its work in the same way it did when you were a child.

It is a LAXATIVE, TONIC AND DIURETIC, and is thereby different from anything ever manufactured before. Price 50 cents.

ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"Bring them to my house immediately," M. Roussillon ordered, as soon as they were restored to consciousness; and he shook himself, as a big wet animal sometimes does, covering everybody near him with muddy water. Then he led the way with melodramatic strides.

In justice to historical accuracy there must be a trifling reform of what appeared on the face of things to be grandly true. Gaspard Roussillon actually dragged Father Beret and Lieutenant Beverley one at a time out of the eddy water, and up the steep river bank. That was truly a great feat; but the hero never explained. When men arrived he was standing between the collapsed forms, panting and dripping. Doubtless he looked as if he had dropped them from under his arms, and why shouldn't he have the benefit of a great implication?

"I've saved them both," he roared; from which, of course, the ready credulous imagination inferred the extreme of possible heroic performance.

"Bring them to my house immediately." And it was accordingly done.

The procession, headed by M. Roussillon, moved noisily, for the French tongue must shake off what comes to it on the thrill of every exciting moment. The only silent Frenchman is the dead one.

Father Beret was not only well nigh drowned, but seriously hurt. He lay for a week on a bed in M. Roussillon's house before he could sit up. Alice hung over him night and day, scarcely sleeping or eating until he was past all danger. As for Beverley, he shook off all the effects of his struggle in a little while. Next day he was out, as well and strong as ever, busy with the affairs of his office. Nor was he less happy on account of what the little adventure had cast into his experience. It is good to feel that one has done an unselfish deed, and no young man's heart repels the freshness of what comes to him when a beautiful girl first enters his life.

Naturally enough, Alice had some thoughts of Beverley while she was so attentively caring for Father Beret. She had never before seen a man like him, nor had she read of one. Beverley stepped in for a few minutes every day to see Father Beret, involuntarily lengthening his visit by a sliding ratio as he became better acquainted. He began to enjoy the priest's conversation, with its stately wisdom cropping up through fervid religious sentiments and quaint humor. Alice must have interested him more than he was fully aware of, for his eyes followed her, as she came and went, with a curious criticism of her half savage costume and her springy, dryad-like suppleness, which reminded him of the shiest and gracefullest wild birds, and yet a touch of refinement, the subtlest and best, showed in all her ways. He wondered at her influence over Father Beret, whom she controlled apparently without effort. But in due time he began to feel a deeper character, a broader intelligence, behind her superficial sauciness, and he found that she really had no mean smattering of books in the lighter vein.

A little thing happened which further opened his eyes and increased the interest that her beauty and elementary charm of style aroused in him gradually, apace with their advancing acquaintance.

Father Beret had got well and returned to his hut and his round of spiritual duties, but Beverley came to Roussillon place every day all the same. For a wonder, M. Roussillon liked him and at most times held the scolding side of her tongue when he was present. Jean, too, made friendly advances whenever opportunity afforded. Alice found in Beverley a large target for the missiles of her clever and tantalizing perversity. He in turn practiced a native dignity and an acquired superiority of manner to excellent effect. It was a meeting of Greek with Greek in a new Arcadia. To him there was Diana, strong, strange, simple, even crude almost to naturalness, yet admirably pure in spirit and imbued with highest womanly aspirations. To her Beverley represented the great outside area of life. He came to her from wilderness, beyond the wide circle of homestead woods and prairies.

Now, there is an antagonism, vague yet powerful, generated between natures thus cast together from the opposite poles of experience and education, an antagonism practically equivalent to the most vigorous attraction. The return to nature has always been the dream of the conventionalized soul, while the simple Arcadian is forever longing for the maddening honey of sophistication.

Innate jealousies strike together like flint and steel, dashing off sparks by which nearly everything that life can warm its core withal is kindled and kept burning. What I envy in my friend I store for my best use. I thrust and parry, not to kill, but to learn my adversary's superior felts and guards. And this hint of sword play leads back to what so greatly surprised and puzzled Beverley one day when he chanced to be examining the pair of colechemardes on the wall.

He tore one down and, handling it with the indescribable facility possible to none save a practical swordsman, remarked: "There's a world of fascination in these things. I like nothing better than a bout at fencing. Does your father practice the art?"

"I have no father, no mother," she quickly said, "but good Papa Roussillon does like a little exercise with the colechemardes."

"Well, I'm glad to hear it. I shall ask to teach him a trick or two," Beverley responded in the lightest mood. "When will he return from the woods?" "I can't tell you. He's very irregular in such matters," she said. Then, with a smile half banter and half challenge, she added, "If you are really dying for some exercise you shall not have to wait for him to come home, I assure you, M. Beverley."

"Oh, it's M. de Ronville, perhaps, that you will offer up as a victim to my skill and address," he slyly returned, for he was suspecting that a love affair in some stage of progress lay between her and Rene.

She blushed violently, but quickly overcoming a combined rush of surprise and anger, added with an emphasis as charming as it was unexpected:

"I myself am, perhaps, swordsman enough to satisfy the impudence and vanity of M. Beverley, lieutenant in the American army."

"Pardon me, mademoiselle; forgive me, I beg of you," he exclaimed, earnestly modulating his voice to sincerest beseechment. "I really did not mean to be impudent, nor—"

Her vivacity cleared with a merry laugh.

"No apologies, I command you," she interposed. "We will have them after I have taught you a fencing lesson."

From a shelf she drew down a pair of fells and, presenting the hilts, bade him take his choice.

"There isn't any difference between them that I know of," she said, and then added archly, "but you will feel better at last, when all is over and the sting of defeat tingles through you, if you are conscious of having used every sensible precaution."

He looked straight into her eyes, trying to catch what was in her mind, but there was a bewildering glamour playing across those gray, opal tinted wells of mystery, from which he could draw only a mischievous smile glint, direct, daring, irresistible.

"Well," he said, taking one of the fells, "what do you really mean? Is it a challenge without room for honorable retreat?"

"The time for parley is past," she replied. "Follow me to the battle ground."

She led the way to a pleasant little court in the rear of the cabin's yard, a space between two wings and a vine covered trellis, beyond which lay a well kept vineyard and vegetable garden. Here she turned about and faced him, poised her fells with a fine grace.

"Are you ready?" she inquired.

He tried again to force a way into the depths of her eyes with his, but he might as well have attacked the sun, so he stood in a confusion of not very well defined feelings, undecided, hesitating, half expecting that there would be some laughable turn to end the affair.

"Are you afraid, M. Beverley?" she demanded after a short waiting in silence.

He laughed now and whipped the air with his fells.

"You certainly are not in earnest?" he said interrogatively. "Do you really mean that you want to fence with me?"

"If you think because I'm only a girl you can easily beat me, try it," she tauntingly replied, making a level thrust toward his breast.

Quick as a flash he parried, and then a merry clinking and twinkling of steel blades kept time to their swift movements. Instantly, by the sure sense which is half sight, half feeling—the sense that guides the experienced fencer's hand and wrist—Beverley knew that he had probably more than his match, and in ten seconds his attack was met by a time thrust in opposition which touched him sharply.

Alice sprang back, lowered her point and laughed.

"Je vous salue, M. Beverley!" she cried, with childlike show of delight. "Did you feel the button?"

"Yes, I felt it," he said with frank acknowledgment in his voice. "It was cleverly done. Now give me a chance to redeem myself."

He began more carefully and found that she, too, was on her best mettle; but it was a short bout, as before. Alice seemed to give him an easy opening and he accepted it with a thrust. Then something happened that he did not understand. The point of his fells was somehow caught under his opponent's hilt guard while her blade seemed to twist around his. At the same time there was a wring and a jerk, the like of which he had never before felt, and he was disarmed, his wrist and fingers aching with the wrench they had received.

Of course the thing was not new; he had been disarmed before; but her trick of doing it was quite a mystery to him, altogether different from any that he had ever seen.

French Lick and

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and casinos one can have all the entertainment and pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.

DIED IN BALLARD

Attorney Crice Received News of Brother's Death.

Young Man Worked for Gregory Co. Here and Had Erysipelas.

Attorney Thomas Crice received a telegram today announcing the death in Barlow, Ballard county, this morning at 4 o'clock of his brother, Mr. David Crice, of this city. Mr. Crice became ill here about seven weeks ago from erysipelas of the face. Ten days ago he was carried to the home of his brother, Mr. Fred Crice, in Barlow. He became gradually worse and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Crice was 21 years of age and was born in Ballard county. He came here a short while ago and was employed at the Gregory Vinegar Works. He was a bright and capable young man with many friends to regret his untimely death. His parents are not living, but he left besides Mr. Thomas Crice of this city, three other brothers, Messrs. Ben, Harvey and Fred Crice, of Ballard county and two sisters, Mrs. Sallie Smith and Miss Pearl Crice, also of Ballard county.

Attorney Crice went to Barlow this morning to attend the funeral, which will take place tomorrow.

WILL NOT RECOVER.—The condition of Lany Garnett, the negro woman who was so badly burned, was no better today. It is not thought that she can possibly recover.

Theatrical Notes.

"The other day, on a train coming in to New York," said Lew Dockstader, I met a young man who was introduced to me as Doctor Blank, and after some conversation with him I said:

"What kind of a doctor are you? Medical, teeth or feet?"

"Well," said he, "to tell you the truth, Mr. Dockstader, I'm not a regular doctor yet, but I'm following the medical profession."

"Oh," said I, "you haven't graduated yet," and the entire incident passed from my mind until a few weeks later I attended the funeral of an acquaintance, and who should I see handing out camp chairs to the mourners, but my friend, the doctor.

"After the last, sad rites, I approached him, more in sorrow than in anger:

"Doctor," I said, "you led me to believe that you were a medical student, didn't you?"

"No, Mr. Dockstader, I did not. I told you I was following the medical profession, and I am. I'm an undertaker."

"Herrmann the Great," who appears at the Kentucky Saturday matinee and night has the reputation for being a persistent originator and his performance this season adds to that reputation many new laurels. Herrmann made an extended trip to Europe this past summer, and while there secured many new and sensational feats of magic, which combined with a number which are original with him and built under his direction, give him a programme surpassed by none and superior to any ever presented on the stage. Two of the new illusions are likely to create a sensation on their first presentation this season. In one, "The Bride Elect" a young girl disappears through a mirror in full view of the audience, and in another, "The Queen of the Flame," the subject vanishes in wreaths of smoke and flame. Mr. Herrmann carries an increased company this season and is assisted by the Laskys in their interlude of military music.

Corinne, that charming young woman of the lyric stage, is credited with this story: "Last week," she says, "I was escorted through an asylum with a number of other visitors, and asked the attendant if he had any famous persons in custody at the time: 'Well, no, miss, we ain't got none as you call famous, but we has just got in two as you might call interesting,' he replied. 'Who are they,' I asked, with morbid interest

"They're sort o' common up here," he answered, "one is a woman who thinks she can write verse for a breakfast food, and the other is a fellow who says he can write an accurate railroad schedule for a summer resort."

Last season when Richard & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels made their annual tour the press and public knew at once that what they saw was only possible by having an almost entire new show. They had been told in the announcements made in advance of the coming show that the same old acts had been discarded, but seeing is believing, and never was so much praise bestowed on a minstrel show as they received. They will be seen again in this city on Monday night when those that were hits last season will be seen again in new acts, together with a whole lot of new people in bright up-to-date novelties.

"An Aristocratic Tramp," one of those high toned fellows you have read about in picture books, will make his first annual appearance at the Kentucky on next Tuesday evening. With him will be Kilroy and Britten, who were for several seasons the one big feature with the "Heart of Chicago," and a carefully selected company of the very best metropolitan talent procurable. Scenery is carried for each and every act and the production is said to be one of the seasons big hits.

Gertrude Cobglian has begun rehearsing for "The Last of the Riossance," in which she is to star this season. She will carry a very handsome production for this play, which was written by her father.

Read what the editor of the Southerner, Okolona, Miss., says:

Shoffner-Hayes Medicine Co., Paducah, Ky. In 1901 my mother commenced taking Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with iron, when the doctors said her lungs were so badly involved that she would not likely be alive but a few weeks. It improved her so rapidly that she was soon in good health for one of her years. I wish you the success you deserve with your Beechwood Emulso.

Suffered six years with a cough that threatened Consumption. Entirely cured by Beechwood Emulso-Hypo.
